Twenty dollars will be paid to the committee people who are responsible for getting community exhibits to the fair and taking care of the booth during the fair. Prizes of $40, $25, and $15 for the best community booths will be awarded to the community organizations who cooperate in making exhibits for the fair.

GRAINS, GRASSES, VEGETABLES, FRUITS

JOY LINN, SUPERINTENDENT

527-7446

Exhibits must contain the amounts stipulated in the premium list.

No family will be permitted to make more than one entry in any one lot, except exhibitors may enter more than one variety under each Section No. for Grain and Forage crops.

HINTS TO EXHIBITORS

The purity and quality of a sample are the two points to remember when preparing samples of threshed grain for show. Purity is valued at about 35 percent and quality at 65 percent.

WHEAT – All samples should be free of dirt, weed seeds, chaff and other grains. There should be no evidence of smut in the sample. The sample should be pure as to variety and class of grain. The grain in the sample ought to be large, plump, and of a hard, flinty texture. A deep yet clear, dark red color is best for milling wheats. It should give a high test weight. The sample should be free from all kinds of damage, such as bin burning, etc.

OATS AND BARLEY – Practically the same points for wheat will hold for oats and barley. In oats and barley, fresh, clean color is very important. Another important point is the plumpness of the grain, best indicated by a high point value per bushel.

SHEAF GRAINS – In sheaf grain, the evidence of high yield and quality of grain are perhaps of equal importance. A sheaf of grain must be pure as to variety. The grain must be well matured and of sound vitality.

FORAGE SHEAVES – Forage sheaves are judged upon their apparent Age quality, purity and yield. It is very essential that the show sample be cured and in a way that will preserve the natural green color and the maximum amount of foliage.

PREPARATION OF SAMPLES

SHEAF GRAINS – Go into the field before grain is ready to cut with the binder. Select samples, and with a knife, cut them close to the ground so as to get the full length of the straw. Be careful not to break the straw in handling. Spread samples on a board in the sun to bleach. See that samples never get wet after being cut. When green color is entirely gone and straw perfectly dry, bind in bundles, tying with a soft cloth that will not cut straw. Make bundles from three to five inches in diameter, just below the head, and tie snugly in at least three places. Strip all leaves from straw. After tying in bundles cut bottom even. Then hang in dry place with head down until time for the Fair.

THRESHED GRAINS – Take a sample from bin of threshed grain; sample should then be thoroughly cleaned, all grain mixtures and weak seed being removed with a grain grader.

SHEAF FORAGE EXHIBITS – Select the most leafy types to be found in the field, the best individual specimens obtainable, and cut close to the ground. Place in loose bundles not more than five to seven inches in diameter, and wrap loosely in a newspaper or cheese cloth. Then hang, head down in a dark place to cure. Do not strip a single leaf or branchlet from the stem, as forage should retain its color and leaves. In making up show bundles, select those individual stems that have retained the most and best leaves with their color. Make bundles from three to five inches in diameter and tie securely in one place at the base of the legume or grass. After tying in bundles cut bottom of sheaf even.

HINTS TO VEGETABLE EXHIBITORS

The outstanding points to be considered in selecting a vegetable exhibit are quality and condition. The judging of a vegetable exhibit is generally based on the readiness of the products for immediate use. The quality of the products is determined by actual test. Condition and quality also include the points of freedom from disease, insect work, mechanical injury and defects. Vegetable exhibits should comprise specimens which are practically perfect from a physical standpoint with root crop not cut too short. All exhibits must be clean.

Slightly above medium sizes are generally preferred to the very large sizes. Uniformity, a point which applies to exhibit that include more than one specimen, is particularly important. Uniformity largely determines the appearance of the exhibit. Uniformity includes color, shape, degree of maturity and size.

Following are some of the points that should be especially observed with each vegetable:
BEANS, STRING – Pods should be uniform in size, shape, color and stage of maturity. Free from rust and other imperfections. Should not show large, mature beans in the pod. Should be free from stringiness.
BEETS – Cut the tops off, leaving approximately 1/2 inch of top intact. All secondary rootlets should be removed, leaving not more than 23 inches of taproot. Wash gently to avoid injury to the skin. If storage is necessary put them in a cool, moist place. The flesh when cut should be firm, crisp, and fine grained. White rings in the cut flesh lower the quality score. Roots should be intact.
Baby beets – should be 1/2 to 1 inch across. Tops should be intact.
BROCCOLI – Lower leaves removed. Flower should be compact with uniform buds and color.

CABBAGE – Uniformity of specimens very desirable. Heads should be solid, this being determined by weight and pressure. Extremely large heads very frequently lack in other qualities. Evidence of cabbage worm work not desirable. Trim lower leaves from heads and do not leave roots intact.

CARROTS – Sample should be typical of its group size. Normally a deep orange in color. Uniform in color, size, and shape. Specimens should be smooth, clean, fresh, (not withered), and free from sunburn. There should be no coarse rings when cut. Cut the tops off, leaving approximately 2 inches of top intact. Wash gently to avoid injury to the skin. If storage is necessary put them in a cool, moist place.

CALIFLOWERS – There should be no "riciness." Stem cut 1/2 inch below bottom leaf. 4-6 leaves remain to protect the head.

CELERY Remove roots and underground portion of stem but leave the crown. Wash if needed. Keep in a moist and cool place. All small or broken outer stalks should be removed.

CUCUMBER, SLICING – Quality of special importance. Mature seeds lower the quality. Specimens must be firm quality, may be determined by pressure. Evidence of the segments separating under pressure indicates that specimens are too mature. Small seed cavity desirable. Uniformity of specimens distinctly desirable.

CUCUMBERS – Harvest by cutting stems, leaving approximately 1/2" of stem. Avoid injury to fruit. Wash if necessary. Choose well shaped specimens. Those extremely pointed, dumbbells, and badly crooked are looked upon as off-type.

DILL Uniform in size, have some in seed and coming into seed, ready to use for canning. Remove cut right above root.

EGGPLANT – Specimen should be bright, glossy, with no bronzing or green or white streaks. Stem trimmed to 1 1/2 inches. Should not be washed but free from injury and soil.

GARLIC – The necks should be dried and trimmed to 1 inch and roots trimmed close to bulb. The outer sheath should enclose bulb and be clean. Cloves should fit tightly and be well filled.

KALE Cut off root, leave leaves.

KOHLRABI – Remove main stem below the ball and all but 5 leaves removed. Leaves to be removed should be trimmed leaves should be 1/2 inch in length.

ONIONS – Approximately eight days before fair, pull and twist tops and remove outer layer of (dirty) skin. Spread them in an open shed so air will pass over them until time to take to fair. Remove the tops, leaving 2 inches and clip off roots, but in doing so avoid damage to the node or basal plate. Choose well-formed bulbs, avoiding "doubles", thick necks or other off-type specimens. Trim roots just below the bulb base.

PARSLEY – Cut stems and display in jar.

PARSNIPS – They should be smooth with rootlets removed but tap root remaining and light cream in color. Crowns should be well hollowed and cores small. Avoid rubbing. Soil removed by soaking in water.

PEAS IN POD – Should have at least 34 peas, but not over mature. Should be well filled, velvety, bright green and firm.

PEPPERS – Choose specimens that are firm or meaty. Leave approximately 1/2 inch of stem. Keep in a cool, moist place. Avoid injury. Wash if necessary. Should be deep in color, fresh, firm symmetrical. In close competition, the advantage is given to perfectly green specimens. Traces of red coloring not desirable in the green varieties; red peppers, otherwise.

POTATOES – Specimens brought in should be uniform table size, shallow eyes, and free of blemishes. Immediately after digging, allow them to set on the ground for approximately 20 minutes to allow the skin to "set". To clean, brush the potato, but be careful as bruising the skin is undesirable. Potatoes should be mature with firmly attached skin. Potatoes should be bright, firm, well-shaped and free from greening, sprouting, and shriveling.

PUMPKINS, PIE – Uniformity of variety, type size and color. Must be free from insect and mechanical injury. Specimens should be mature, as indicated by hardness of shell. Specimen should be clean with stem intact.

RHUBARB – Stalks should be uniform in size and color. Should be fresh, solid and brittle, no pithy.

RUTABAGAS – Cut the tops off, leaving approximately 1/2 inch of top intact. Wash gently but avoid injury to the skin. Should be smooth with no side roots.

SPINACH – Leaves should be large, broad, thick and smooth.

SQUASH – In winter squash, maturity is particularly important, as indicated by hardness of the outer shell. Three specimens constitute an exhibit, with uniformity of color, weight and type. Should be free from blemishes. Stem should be attached about 1/2 inch in length. Vegetable marrow and summer squash should be immature, as indicated by the soft shell. Choose tender specimens. For the long type, they may be from five to eight inches long. For the round type and crooked necks, choose those which are very tender and succulent. Some types are ready for use as soon as the blossom has withered.

SWEET CORN – The cobs should be well filled with kernels in the milk stage, evenly and closely spaced and rounded. The cobs should be husked, trimmed and free from husk and silk.

TOMATOES – Specimens should be firm and free of abnormal growth. Stems should be removed on all but preserving types.

TURNIPS – Specimens should be smooth with rootlets removed but 23 inches of tap root remaining.

WATERMELONS – One melon constitutes an exhibit. Specimens should be uniform in size, color and type, and free from blemishes due to diseases, insect or mechanical injury. Thickness of rind and quality and color of the flesh are particularly important. Should be in perfect state of ripeness for immediate use.

HINTS TO FRUIT EXHIBITORS

In estimating the comparative values of collection fruits, the judges will base such estimates strictly upon the varieties in such collection, which shall have been correctly named by the exhibitor.

In instructing such comparison of values, the judges will consider first, the value of the varieties for the purposes for which they are entered; second, the color, size and evenness of the specimens; third, the apparent carefulness in handling and the taste displayed in the arrangements of the exhibit; fourth, rejected and will not be placed on exhibition. If, in the opinion of the judge, none of the entries in the lot or class are worthy of an award, he may refuse to award any prize or prizes in such class or lot.

INSTRUCTIONS TO EXHIBITORS

- Fruit selected for exhibition purposes should be free from blemishes of any kind, true to the type of variety, of medium size and show as nearly as possible perfect development of form and color.
- Apples, plums, and pears should have perfect stems and should be handled in such a manner as not to destroy the natural bloom of the fruit. Stems should be left on strawberries.
- Always wrap specimens carefully and pack in batting, excelsior straw, or some material that will prevent any possible injury during shipment. It is always advisable to send a few extra specimens.
- Exhibitors may replace with fresh fruit any specimens that show a tendency to spot or decay at any time during the fair except when the judges are working on the class to which it belongs.
- Decayed, injured or inferior specimens should not be exhibited. When such specimens appear, they will be considered by the judges as lowering the comparative standard of the exhibit. Taste in arrangement and neatness of exhibit will be considered by the judges in making the awards.
